Given that Nevada is the driest state in the nation, effective management of our precious water resources is crucial at all levels. This survey is being conducted by the Nevada Division of Water Resources (NDWR) in order to gather input from public stakeholders early in the process of updating our State Water Plan, which was last published in 1999 and may be viewed at <http://water.nv.gov/waterplandetail.aspx>. The updated plan is envisioned to serve as a high-level policy and planning guide to help inform and direct water resource initiatives in the near and distant future. Once completed, the updated plan will complement but not supersede local and regional water resource plans.

Dado que Nevada es el estado más seco de la nación, la gestión eficaz de nuestros preciosos recursos de agua es fundamental en todos los niveles. Esta encuesta está siendo realizada por la División de Recursos Hídricos de Nevada (NDWR) con el fin de recopilar comentarios de las partes interesadas públicas en las primeras etapas del proceso de actualización de nuestro Plan Estatal de Agua, que se publicó por última vez en 1999 y se puede ver en <http://water.nv.gov/waterplandetail.aspx>. Se prevé que el plan actualizado sirva como una política de alto nivel y una guía de planificación para ayudar a informar y dirigir las iniciativas de recursos hídricos en un futuro cercano y lejano. Una vez completado, el plan actualizado complementará pero no sustituirá a los planes de recursos hídricos locales y regionales.
