On Sept 19th, the Bureau of Land Management advanced the proposed Rhyolite Ridge Lithium-Boron Mine Project near Tonopah, Nevada, by releasing a final environmental impact statement for the critical mineral project. The proposed mine would be located in southern Nevada's Silver Peak Range and could potentially produce enough lithium to supply nearly 370,000 electric vehicles each year.

If approved, the mine would employ up to 500 workers during construction and up to 350 workers during operations, generating an estimated $125 million in wages annually during the life of the mine.

"The Biden-Harris administration is committed to responsible development of critical minerals that are needed to drive America's clean energy economy," said Laura Daniel-Davis, Acting Deputy Secretary of the Interior. "The Rhyolite Ridge project represents what we can do when we work together – with industry, states, Tribes and stakeholders – to ensure the swift consideration and adaptation of projects to fulfill our energy needs while respecting cultural and ecologically sensitive areas."

TOWN OFFICE CLOSED NOV. 11th AND 28th

The Nevada Department of Transportation (NDOT) announces an upcoming project on U.S. 95 in Nye County (mileposts NY 6.68 to NY 70.41). The project consists of sign improvements and striping. Construction has begun, and last through November. The posted speed limit ranges from 25 to 75 mph within the project limits. On weekdays, traffic control will consist of shoulder closures and occasional single-lane closures with flaggers and a pilot car alternating traffic directions. Drivers can anticipate traffic delays of up to 30 minutes.

Motorists should exercise caution while traveling through work zones and, if possible, take alternate detour routes. NDOT works with Waze to inform the public about planned highway restrictions. Additional state highway information is available at dot.nv.gov or by calling (775) 888-7000. For the latest state highway conditions, visit nvroads.com or call 511 before driving. follow @NevadaDOTVegas on X for traffic and project updates.
