DETR debuts new homepage

CARSON CITY, NV - The Department of Employment, Training and Rehabilitation (DETR) announced today the upcoming debut of its newly updated website homepage at detr.nv.gov. The updated homepage features a streamlined layout, improved functionality and navigation, allowing for a cross-functional experience for users.

"We are delighted about the launch of our updated homepage as it's the first thing individuals see when searching for our critical information and online services. The new layout enables visitors to find information more quickly than before, while highlighting all our agency's varied programs and services that are so vital to the public," said DETR Director Elisa Cafferata.

DETR's new homepage will continue to provide information and online services such as applying for state unemployment insurance, providing assistance to job seekers in attaining their career goals, and delivering information regarding the state's economic and workforce data, vocational rehabilitation, job training and placement, and workplace discrimination. Visitors are encouraged to explore the updated homepage at detr.nv.gov.
